MORE RIOTING IS EXPECTED IN OHIO PRISON

PRISONERS AND GUARDS NERVES ARE ON EDGE

FRAYED BY AFTERMATH OF MONDAY NIGHT'S HOLOCAUST AT COLUMBUS

"SITUATION IS WORST SINCE THE FIRE," SAYS WARDEN P. THOMAS

By HARRY W. SHARPE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Columbus, O., April 24.—Rioting among surly convicts at the state penitentiary was expected momentarily today as nerves of prisoners and guards, frayed by the aftermath of Monday night's holocaust in which 320 men, reached the breaking point.

Prison officials said they were in momentary fear of an organized insurrection but they hoped, by diplomatic treatment, to avert an actual outbreak.

"The situation is the worst since the fire," Warden P. Thomas told the United Press. "We're just waiting. We will do everything to prevent trouble and if the worst comes to the worst, we'll rush soldiers inside."

Warden Thomas suspended two more guards today and appointed 25 new ones.

Guard Edward W. Kerr was suspended pending investigation of the charge that he was intoxicated last night. Guard Roy Minshall was suspended after Guard Captain John Hall charged he was derelict in his duty Monday night.

Presence of exploded pistol shells in the fire-swept cell blocks was accounted for today by Warden Thomas who said Guard Guy R. Porter fired in that vicinity to warn other guards of the fire.

Trouble was believed brewing in sections A, B, C and D, where 1,600 defiant men were confined.

Cell door locks were jammed again last night and only range doors at the corridors kept the prisoners from reaching the prison quadrangle.

All the men refused to work and dated guards to "come and make us." Cat-calls rang through the troubled section and a squad of soldiers was concentrated with guards in the guard room outside the sections.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 24.—Plans to burn the Ohio state penitentiary were made three weeks ago by inmates of the "idle house," Charles Carroll, recently released prisoner, claimed here today.

Carroll, brought here from Columbus to answer to housebreaking charges, said, "I knew all about a plot to burn the prison. There was one little hitch and the scheme failed. The scheme was laid by about 400 men in the 'idle house' and a note written telling all the other convicts, was passed around."

"But the note must have got in the wrong hands and our plan went wrong."

Columbus, O., April 24.—Ohio state penitentiary today felt a nervous tension that threatened at any moment to send most of its convict population on a mad reprisal for the deaths of 320 comrades who perished in Monday night's fire disaster.

Although two days have passed since the tragedy, the prisoners, with the horror of the scene still fresh in their memories, are in a dangerous state of mind. Officials, fearing a new outburst, are making every effort to keep them subdued and well cared for. Last night guards paced the floor outside the ruined cell blocks G and H, while within the air was filled with the jeers of crowded, milling convicts.

Belligerent, cursing, some laughing hysterically, they challenged the guards to lock them in their cells. Only the range doors at the end of each corridor and the guns of nerve-racked guards restrained them.

The scene was a replica of that at dawn yesterday, equally uncertain and fraught with elements as dangerous as dynamite. When the hour for retirement came, the prisoners of six cell blocks jammed the locks of their cells or stuffed them with bits of waste paper and splinters. Prison authorities preferred to let them alone. The range doors would crumble like brittle timber if the prisoners, with massed weight, should rush them.

Guards heard reports that a plot was under way to blow up a gasoline tank near the dormitory. Quick precautions were taken, and later an order for 900 gallons of coffee helped quiet the mob for the time being.

Meanwhile, Warden P. E. Thomas, who has been the object of continual insults from the prisoners, planned to send several hundred to the state farm at London, Ohio, to alleviate the situation. He also planned to place the prison shops back in operation, which may have a psychological effect on the now idle men.

The prison hospital was still jammed today with injured, many of whom were battling pneumonia, superinduced by burns and exposure. Many were expected to die. Regular patients were shunted into corners to make way for the new sufferers.

The night's developments climaxed a day which did little to further the knowledge of Governor Myers Y.

One man, John Sanderson, was arrested today on suspicion of leading the lynchers.

Cooper and his investigating committee as to how the fire started. All they knew was that cowardice, lack of concerted action and delay combined to form one of the state's most disastrous episodes.

Fire Chief Al Nice of Columbus, who directed the fight to curb the blaze, testified that every man would have been saved "if guards had not been too anxious to keep them penned up." He said in his opinion there was ample opportunity between the time the fire broke out and when the first alarm was turned in, to liberate the men.

Ravages of the fire will be felt for months. The prison, already overpopulated, was still hard put today to care for prisoners.

British Tanker Damaged in Collision with North German Lloyd Liner Bremen in Fog

BREMEN SEARCHED FOR DISABLED SHIP TO EXTEND AID

BREMEN ENROUTE TO NEW YORK WHEN ACCIDENT HAPPENED

COLLISION OCCURRED BETWEEN FOLKESTONE AND DUNGENESS

London, April 24.—(U.P.)—The British tanker Grenadier advised by radio today that it was badly damaged in a collision with the North German Lloyd liner Bremen, a Lloyds' dispatch from North Foreland said.

The tanker said it collided with the Bremen at 9:26 A. M. and was proceeding to Deal, England, where it would land the supernumerary, who "is requiring medical attention."

The tanker reported she did not require assistance, although tanks number four and five, the bridge and parts of the ship on the port side were damaged badly.

The tanker's message did not say whether the supernumerary was injured in the collision.

Before advising that assistance was not needed, the British Grenadier had reported that tanks four and five were leaking.

The British Grenadier is a steel tanker of 6,888 gross tons and is owned by the British Tanker Company.

The accident occurred, according to the Exchange Telegraph, in a thick fog early in the morning between Folkestone and Dungeness. The damage to the Bremen was not known, and the Grenadier, it was said, signalled that she did not need assistance.

Another Lloyds' dispatch from North Foreland said a radio message was received from the Bremen saying it was searching for a British tanker which may need assistance.

The North Foreland message from the Bremen said: "10:30 A. M. GMT.—steamer Bremen searching for British tanker name unknown which may need assistance. Have no radio communication with tanker. Position 50.55 north, 1.07 east. Dungeness bearing 264 true 4.5 miles. Please provide any information. (Signed) Captain."

A spokesman for the North German Lloyd line here told the United Press his office had received the rumors of a collision, but so far had had nothing official.

The Bremen was enroute to New York, he said. The number of persons aboard the liner was unknown here.

(Dungeness is on the English Channel, about 25 miles southeast of Dover)

DAUGHTER OF MUSSOLINI MARRIES COUNT

NUPTIALS OF EDDA MUSSOLINI AND COUNT CIANO CELEBRATED THIS MORNING

CEREMONIES SIMPLE AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH WISHES OF IL DUCE

Rome, April 24.—(U.P.)—Edda Mussolini, daughter of Premier Benito Mussolini, became the wife of Count Galeazzo Ciano, secretary of the Italian delegation accredited to the Holy See, at 11 A. M. today.

The marriage vows were read by Mgr. Giovenale Pascucci, priest of the Mussolini's parish, in the church of St. Joseph, one of the less imposing churches in the city of Rome.

The ceremonies were simple, in accordance with the orders of Il Duce, but the profusion of flowers about the altar, in every part of the church, and the gorgeous tapestries and carpets that had been placed for the occasion, lent an air of grandeur.

Automobiles brought the wedding party to the church, a two-minute drive from Mussolini's Villa Torlonia. They dismounted, and while Maestro Germani of Augustum Concert Hall played Bossi's Wedding March, Signorina Mussolini entered, on the arm of her groom's father, Count Costanzo Ciano, Italian minister of communications.

The young count, her bridegroom, followed her, with Signora Mussolini on his arm. Behind them walked the premier and the Countess Ciano, followed by the official witnesses and the few invited guests.

The wedding party proceeded down the central aisle to the altar where Mgr. Pascucci awaited them. The witnesses took seats on either side of the altar, Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the premier, and Prince Torlonia representing the bride, and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi and Cesare De Vecchi, the Count Val Cismon, Italian ambassador to the Holy See, represented the bridegroom.

The service was brief and was followed by the nuptial mass. Afterwards, the count and his bride drove to St. Peter's to follow the Roman custom of praying at St. Peter's tomb immediately after marriage.

The premier and his wife and Count Ciano and his wife accompanied the bride and groom to St. Peter's and prayed with them. It was the first time Il Duce had ever entered the basilica of the famous cathedral.

As the vows were read, the philharmonic choir and the Augustum string quartet gave several Italian classical selections.

The drawing rooms of the Villa Torlonia were filled with presents from Pope Pius XI, high government officials, all branches of the fascist party, and noble families of the Italian kingdom. A silver tea set, chased under the direction of Prof. Federico Hermann, noted art expert, was the gift of the chamber of deputies. The Italian senate presented Signorina Mussolini a magnificent bridal veil of Venetian lace.

The villa was the scene yesterday of a brilliant reception to a small group of selected friends at which Signora Rachele Mussolini, the premier's wife, appeared for the first time since her husband's accession to power as official hostess.

'OLD ABE' DIES IN PINE RIVER HOME

Double of Abraham Lincoln, Who Preferred Railroading to Stage, Succumbs

So closely resembling Abraham Lincoln in facial and body structure that his friends called him "Old Abe" Rowland W. Spear, 72, who preferred railroading to stage offers based on his resemblance to the former president, died at the home in Pine River Thursday.

Spear appeared in a number of programs and pageants in the character of Lincoln. He politely refused however to accept offers from promoters and theatrical managers to play the part of the great emancipator. His friends said that he appeared once at a celebration at San Diego, Calif., commemorating the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

KOHLER CALLED BACK TO STAND

WISCONSIN'S MILLIONAIRE GOVERNOR FIGHTING OUSTER PROCEEDINGS

By WILLARD R. SMITH
Sheboygan, Wis., April 24.—Wisconsin's millionaire governor, Walter J. Kohler, whose removal from office is being sought on charges of excessive campaign expenditures, was called back to the witness stand today in his trial for further questioning as to how much money he spent in seeking nomination in 1928.

Kohler was dozing as court opened today. He started suddenly when he was called to the witness stand again, tossed away a cigar stub and settled down for further questioning.

Judge Gherz admonished the spectators that they must be quiet. The crowd broke into applause once yesterday and laughed heartily at some of the governor's replies.

The wealthy industrialist, who took over his father's small enameling business and built it up into a huge concern manufacturing plumbing fixtures, faced another day of questioning with little indication of being annoyed by the state's harassing queries.

He has been hard pressed by Special Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie for a detailed accounting of his generous hospitality during the campaign when at his home and at his model industrial village of Kohler, he entertained thousands of persons whom the state labelled "political pilgrims."

For four hours yesterday the governor, who took office with the avowed purpose of giving Wisconsin a business administration as efficient as that which obtained at his factories, was kept under a barrage of pointed questions.

BURLINGTON HOOKS UP WITH AIR LINE

Wilson said the service will save a full day for travelers from St. Paul to New York.

THEN GOES TO JURY, VERDICT FOR DRYS ASSURED

WETS CONCLUDE REBUTTAL WITH SUMMARY OF CANADIAN LIQUOR CONDITIONS

LAST WITNESS WAS WILLIAM C. ROPER, FOOTBALL COACH OF PRINCETON

By PAUL R. MALLON
Washington, April 24.—The three months' trial of prohibition before the house judiciary committee will close before night and go to the jury, with a verdict for the drys assured.

Wets conclude their rebuttal today with a summary of Canadian liquor conditions expected from Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board. He was respectfully invited to appear after newspapers carried his contradiction of statements before the committee by E. G. Drury, former Ontario premier, who contended the liquor control system failed to work.

The last witness scheduled is William C. Roper, football coach at Princeton University, who was called to answer a defense of prohibition by Alonzo Stagg, coach at Chicago University and old gridiron foe of Roper.

With these two witnesses the wets will conclude the greatest representation of wet and dry arguments since prohibition became a law 10 years ago. The record of testimony before the committee comprises between 600,000 and 700,000 words. It will cover five thick congressional volumes, already considered a valuable reference library for the wets and drys who are waging primary election campaigns in various sections of the country.

The hearing was called by the wets and they are satisfied even though they know the seven pending bills proposing repeal of the eighteenth amendment will not be adopted. The committee remains as favorable to prohibition as when the hearings started with no more than four possibly five wet votes against a dry majority of 12 or 13.

Washington, April 24.—Two widely contrasting stories of drunkenness and temperance were told before the house judiciary committee today as the three months' hearing on proposals to repeal or modify the prohibition law drew near a close.

William Roper, famous Princeton football coach, told of "alarming, vicious drinking of poison bootleg liquor" by American college students.

"I think there was less drinking in school three or four years before prohibition than ever before. In the old days, we used to go to the Princeton Inn, but a man who got drunk was looked down upon. Now they look down on a man who doesn't get drunk."

"In the old days a student drank a stein of beer and went to bed at 10:30 P. M., while nowadays he and his girl may drink themselves insensible and remain out all night," Roper said.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board, told a story of temperance through government liquor control.

Drayton was emphatic in claiming Ontario had been successful with the liquor question. He was invited by the wets to refute the testimony of E. G. Drury, former Ontario premier, who testified recently the liquor control system was a failure.

The Canadian liquor control system has been considerably successful in controlling drunkenness and promoting temperance, Drayton told the committee.

Roper was called after Dr. F. W. Buck, secretary of the Federal Dispensary Tax Reduction League, had testified briefly, asserting his dispensary plan had been tried and worked in Colorado. Buck, who admitted he "drinks liquor like a gentleman," said Henry Ford and other dry industrialists had made this a temperance country even before prohibition.

At the start of today's session, Representative Sparks, republican, Kansas, a dry, obtained permission to cross-examine Buck.

"You concede an unlimited amount of liquor given any one customer under your dispensary plan would be harmful," asked Sparks.

"We want to promote temperance," said Buck. "Liquor taken in excess is always harmful."

"You drink whiskey," "I always have."

"You do now?" "Any time. I drink whisky like a gentleman. I think this is all hoggy about an appetite. I was never drunk in my life."

Amplifying his statement concerning "vicious drinking," Roper said, "that goes even for the high schools. 'I wouldn't mention any names, but I could tell of many leading high school men who have been expelled for drinking.'"

The coach said he had been very much disturbed recently by "maudlin drunkenness of young men, one of whom tried to put a bottle of liquor down on my desk." Roper said this did not occur at Princeton.

Fire Chief Al Nice of Columbus, who directed the fight to curb the blaze, testified that every man would have been saved "if guards had not been too anxious to keep them penned up." He said in his opinion there was ample opportunity between the time the fire broke out and when the first alarm was turned in, to liberate the men.

Ravages of the fire will be felt for months. The prison, already overpopulated, was still hard put today to knowledge of Governor Myers Y. care for prisoners.

British Tanker Damaged in Collision with North German Lloyd Liner Bremen in Fog

BREMEN SEARCHED FOR DISABLED SHIP TO EXTEND AID

COLLISION OCCURRED BETWEEN FOLKESTONE AND DUNGENESS

London, April 24.—(U.P.)—The British tanker Grenadier advised by radio today that it was badly damaged in a collision with the North German Lloyd liner Bremen, a Lloyds' dispatch from North Foreland said.

The tanker said it collided with the Bremen at 9:26 A. M. and was proceeding to Deal, England, where it would land the supernumerary, who "is requiring medical attention."

The tanker reported she did not require assistance, although tanks numbered four and five, the bridge and parts of the ship on the port side were damaged badly.

The tanker's message did not say whether the supernumerary was injured in the collision.

Before advising that assistance was not needed, the British Grenadier had reported that tanks four and five were leaking.

The British Grenadier is a steel tanker of 6,888 gross tons and is owned by the British Tanker Company.

The accident occurred, according to the Exchange Telegraph, in a thick fog early in the morning between Folkestone and Dungeness. The damage to the Bremen was not known, and the Grenadier, it was said, signalled that she did not need assistance.

Another Lloyds' dispatch from North Foreland said a radio message was received from the Bremen saying it was searching for a British tanker which may need assistance.

The North Foreland message from the Bremen said: "10:30 A. M. GMT.—steamer Bremen searching for British tanker name unknown which may need assistance. Have no radio communication with tanker. Position 50.55 north, 1.07 east. Dungeness bearing 264 tube 4.5 miles. Please provide any information. (Signed) Captain."

A spokesman for the North German Lloyd line here told the United Press his office had received the rumors of a collision, but so far had had nothing official.

The Bremen was enroute to New York, he said. The number of persons aboard the liner was unknown here. (Dungeness is on the English Channel, about 25 miles southeast of Dover)

LITTLE GIRL IS FIRE VICTIM

Irma Irene Casemore Dies at Flint, Mich., Following Accident in Home

Irma Irene Casemore, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Casemore passed away on April 13 at Hurley hospital, Flint, Mich., succumbing to burns received when a 13 year old girl, Edna Cline, poured kerosene on live coals to restart the fire which had burned low.

The Casemores left Brainerd four years ago to make Flint, Mich., their home. Irma Irene is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laughton of West Oak Lawn.

The little girl was made a living torch by the explosion in the kitchen and ran through the house and outside where she threw herself into a mud puddle. Neighbors hearing her screams ran to her aid and she was rushed to the hospital where she lived 18 hours.

She leaves her parents, a brother, Vernon George age four and sister, Evelyn Elaine age 18 months. The body was shipped to Clearwater, Minn., where the funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, April 17.

DAUGHTER OF MUSSOLINI MARRIES COUNT

NUPTIALS OF EDDA MUSSOLINI AND COUNT CIANO CELEBRATED THIS MORNING

CEREMONIES SIMPLE AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH WISHES OF IL DUCE

Rome, April 24.—(U.P.)—Edda Mussolini, daughter of Premier Benito Mussolini, became the wife of Count Galeazzo Ciano, secretary of the Italian delegation accredited to the Holy See, at 11 A. M. today.

The marriage vows were read by Mgr. Giovenale Pascucci, priest of the Mussolini's parish, in the church of St. Joseph, one of the less imposing churches in the city of Rome.

The ceremonies were simple, in accordance with the orders of Il Duce, but the profusion of flowers about the altar, in every part of the church, and the gorgeous tapestries and carpets that had been placed for the occasion, lent an air of grandeur.

Automobiles brought the wedding party to the church, a two-minute drive from Mussolini's Villa Torlonia. They dismounted, and while Maestro Germani of Augustum Concert Hall played Bossi's Wedding March, Signorina Mussolini entered, on the arm of her groom's father, Count Costanzo Ciano, Italian minister of communications.

The young count, her bridegroom, followed her, with Signora Mussolini on his arm. Behind them walked the premier and the Countess Ciano, followed by the official witnesses and the few invited guests.

The wedding party proceeded down the central aisle to the altar where Mgr. Pascucci awaited them. The witnesses took seats on either side of the altar, Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the premier, and Prince Torlonia representing the bride, and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi and Cesare De Vecchi, the Count Val Cisono, Italian ambassador to the Holy See, represented the bridegroom.

The service was brief and was followed by the nuptial mass. Afterwards, the count and his bride drove to St. Peter's to follow the Roman custom of praying at St. Peter's tomb immediately after marriage.

The premier and his wife and Count Ciano and his wife accompanied the bride and groom to St. Peter's and prayed with them. It was the first time Il Duce had ever entered the basilica of the famous cathedral.

As the vows were read, the philharmonic choir and the Augustum string quartet gave several Italian classical selections.

The drawing rooms of the Villa Torlonia were filled with presents from Pope Pius XI, high government officials, all branches of the fascist party, and noble families of the Italian kingdom. A silver text set, chased under the direction of Prof. Federico Hermann, noted art expert, was the gift of the chamber of deputies. The Italian senate presented Signorina Mussolini a magnificent bridal veil of Venetian lace.

The villa was the scene yesterday of a brilliant reception to a small group of selected friends at which Signora Rachele Mussolini, the premier's wife, appeared for the first time since her husband's accession to power as official hostess.

Hastings, Minn., April 24.—(U.P.)—Lucille Lynn, 7, today was battling for her life in a hospital after being seriously burned when a gasoline can near the kitchen stove exploded.

Her father, Fredrick Lynn, was burned when he attempted to beat off the flames from Lucille and her four-year-old sister, Lillian. When the explosion occurred, the two girls were in the kitchen alone. Lucille ran to her mother in the dining room where she was wrapped in a blanket. Lillian's flaming clothing was extinguished by her father, who was entering the kitchen.

'OLD ABE' DIES IN PINE RIVER HOME

Double of Abraham Lincoln, Who Preferred Railroading to Stage, Succumbs

So closely resembling Abraham Lincoln in facial and body structure that his friends called him "Old Abe" Rowland W. Spear, 72, who preferred railroading to stage offers based on his resemblance to the former president, died at the home in Pine River Thursday.

Spear appeared in a number of programs and pageants in the character of Lincoln. He politely refused however to accept offers from promoters and theatrical managers to play the part of the great emancipator. His friends said that he appeared once at a celebration at San Diego, Calif., commemorating the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

KOHLER CALLED BACK TO STAND

WISCONSIN'S MILLIONAIRE GOVERNOR FIGHTING OUSTER PROCEEDINGS

By WILLARD R. SMITH
Sheboygan, Wis., April 24.—Wisconsin's millionaire governor, Walter J. Kohler, whose removal from office is being sought on charges of excessive campaign expenditures, was called back to the witness stand today in his trial for further questioning as to how much money he spent in seeking nomination in 1928.

Kohler was dozing as court opened today. He started suddenly when he was called to the witness stand again, tossed away a cigar stub and settled down for further questioning.

Judge Gherz admonished the spectators that they must be quiet. The crowd broke into applause once yesterday and laughed heartily at some of the governor's replies.

The wealthy industrialist, who took over his father's small enameling business and built it up into a huge concern manufacturing plumbing fixtures, faced another day of questioning with little indication of being annoyed by the state's harassing queries.

He has been hard pressed by Special Prosecutor Harold M. Wilkie for a detailed accounting of his generous hospitality during the campaign when at his home and at his model industrial village of Kohler, he entertained thousands of persons whom the state labeled "political pilgrims."

For four hours yesterday the governor, who took office with the avowed purpose of giving Wisconsin a business administration as efficient as that which obtained at his factories, was kept under a barrage of pointed questions.

Wilson said the service will save a full day for travelers from St. Paul to New York.

THEN GOES TO JURY, VERDICT FOR DRYS ASSURED

WETS CONCLUDE REBUTTAL WITH SUMMARY OF CANADIAN LIQUOR CONDITIONS

LAST WITNESS WAS WILLIAM C. ROPER, FOOTBALL COACH OF PRINCETON

By PAUL R. MALLON
Washington, April 24.—The three months' trial of prohibition before the house judiciary committee will close before night and go to the jury, with a verdict for the drys assured.

Wets conclude their rebuttal today with a summary of Canadian liquor conditions expected from Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board. He was respectfully invited to appear after newspapers carried his contradiction of statements before the committee by E. G. Drury, former Ontario premier, who contended the liquor control system failed to work.

The last witness scheduled is William C. Roper, football coach at Princeton University, who was called to answer a defense of prohibition by Alonzo Stagg, coach at Chicago University and old gridiron foe of Roper.

With these two witnesses the wets will conclude the greatest representation of wet and dry arguments since prohibition became a law 10 years ago. The record of testimony before the committee comprises between 600,000 and 700,000 words. It will cover five thick congressional volumes, already considered a valuable reference library for the wets and drys who are waging primary election campaigns in various sections of the country.

The hearing was called by the wets and they are satisfied even though they know the seven pending bills proposing repeal of the eighteenth amendment will not be adopted. The committee remains as favorable to prohibition as when the hearings started with no more than four possibly five wet votes against a dry majority of 12 or 13.

Washington, April 24.—Two widely contrasting stories of drunkenness and temperance were told before the house judiciary committee today as the three months' hearing on proposals to repeal or modify the prohibition law drew near a close.

William Roper, famous Princeton football coach, told of "alarming, vicious drinking of poison bootleg liquor" by American college students.

"I think there was less drinking in school three or four years before prohibition than ever before. In the old days, we used to go to the Princeton Inn, but a man who got drunk was looked down upon. Now they look down on a man who doesn't get drunk."

"In the old days a student drank a stein of beer and went to bed at 10:30 P. M., while nowadays he and his girl may drink themselves insensible and remain out all night," Roper said.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board, told a story of temperance through government liquor control.

Drayton was emphatic in claiming Ontario had been successful with the liquor question. He was invited by the wets to refute the testimony of E. G. Drury, former Ontario premier, who testified recently the liquor control system was a failure.

The Canadian liquor control system has been considerably successful in controlling drunkenness and promoting temperance, Drayton told the committee.

Roper was called after Dr. F. W. Buck, secretary of the Federal Dispensary Tax Reduction League, had testified briefly, asserting his dispensary plan had been tried and worked in Colorado. Buck, who admitted he "drinks liquor like a gentleman," said Henry Ford and other dry industrialists had made this a temperance country even before prohibition.

At the start of today's session, Representative Sparks, republican, Kansas, a dry, obtained permission to cross-examine Buck.

"You concede an unlimited amount of liquor given any one customer under your dispensary plan would be harmful," he asked Sparks.

"We want to promote temperance," said Buck. "Liquor taken in excess is always harmful."

"You drink whisky," "I always have."

"You do now?" "Any time. I drink whisky like a gentleman. I think this is all booze about an appetite. I was never drunk in my life."

Amplifying his statement concerning "vicious drinking," Roper said, "that goes even for the high schools. I wouldn't mention any names, but I could tell of many leading high school men who have been expelled for drinking."

The coach said he had been very much disturbed recently by "maudlin drunkenness of young men, one of whom tried to put a bottle of liquor down on my desk." Roper said this did not occur at Princeton.

Gamble's HOUSE PAINT

Quality-Balance-Grinding

The Big Three in Paint

With our liberal guarantee of quality we must know that our paint is properly balanced to give long wear—covering capacity—easy application.

We use—

1. Only pure linseed oil—it binds the pigments and leaves a preservative film.
2. Pure white lead—gives long life—preserves wood.
3. Pure zinc oxide—hardens film—protects other ingredients from harmful effects of ultra violet rays in the sun.
4. Pure lithopone and other pigments—give covering capacity and working quality.

Pure ingredients are ground together in balanced proportions, in a modern paint factory recently completed. All these make our guarantee possible.

QUALITY GROCERS

P. E. Rowell

THESE ARE THE FACTS

Do Manufacturers Pack Lesser Weight Packages for Chain Stores?

Our Answer is an Emphatic NO!

Some merchants persist in stating that manufacturers produce a smaller size package and a lower quality of merchandise for chain stores than they do for other distributors in the grocery line, mentioning specifically such items as Soap, Campbell's Pork and Beans, Gold Dust, Oxydol, and others. This is not based on facts.

Should any consumer care to make inquiries in connection with any short weight packages, or smaller sizes, or poorer quality of merchandise in that which we offer as compared to other retail merchants we have letters on file from various manufacturers positively denying same. So have the wholesale and retail grocers or their associations.

If any consumer is sufficiently interested we suggest that you write to any of the companies against whom charges have been made and satisfy yourself as to the truth of these state nents.

The companies whose merchandise has been mentioned are:

GOLD DUST CORPORATION
CAMPBELL SOUP CO.
WASHBURN CROSBY CO.
QUAKER OATS CO.

KELLOGG CO.

Avoid GUM-STUCK VALVES!

Use

KOOLMOTOR GASOLENE

the gas from which harmful gum has been removed

IMAGINE the fight that goes on in your engine when your valves are stuck with sticky, gummy, clogging deposits.

Gasolenes containing an excessive amount of gum cause that condition. When you step on the gas for more power your engine labors—your valves struggle to get free—you wince at the faulty response.

Why tolerate this sluggish performance? Change to Koolumotor Gasolene—the gas from which harmful gum has been removed. Cities Service experts put this superior motor fuel through extra processes, exercise greater care, to relieve you of gum-stuck valves. The Cities Service mini-gum process reduces the gum content to a harmless minimum.

Keep your valves clean—help them deliver their best—insure maximum power at all times—by keeping your tank full of Koolumotor Gasolene—the gas that is free from harmful gum.

TANLAC ENDS ANOTHER CASE OF RHEUMATISM

and Stomach Troubles—Hotel
Man Benefits This Time

Ending the suffering of 10 years in just a few weeks is going some but that's just an example of how quickly Tanlac works in stubborn cases that never yield to other remedies.

No wonder so many local people are so enthusiastic about Tanlac—no wonder local druggists are loud in praise of this medicine. Read for instance what Mr. J.
L. Kline says: "For 10 years have had stomach troubles. Rheumatism also of mornings, stiff and sore all over, mostly in back and shoulders. A good powerful medicine was needed to fix me up and Tanlac proved to be all of that. From it I got relief from all troubles, stomach and rheumatism. My digestion now is just about 100% good. No more pain or distress, eat good, sleep as good as I eat, pain, stiffness, soreness all gone. Rheumatism in back and shoulders wiped out. I have tried out lots of medicines but Tanlac gave me results." That's the story of Tanlac in a nutshell—it gives results and gives them quick, for every herb, bark and root is a real medicine. Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may fool you into buying them, but remember Tanlac is a real medicine that backs its claims with a guarantee. At all druggists. Accept no substitute.

with great interest. The coach barked his statement as if he were instructing his players on the field.

"What would you suggest?" asked Rep. Summers, dem., Tex. "I would put great restrictions upon sale of liquor or beer or whatever would be common sense."

Roper was called by the wets in rebuttal to dry statements by Alonzo A.
Stagg and Fielding H. Yost, equally famous midwestern football coaches.

Roper said he believed prohibition was "so badly sold to the American people that it never can be enforced."

"I have no hope that it ever can be enforced," he said. "I think the example set by our older people has had something to do with disregard for law."

Roper said he had been in contact with young men for 15 years at Princeton, the University of Missouri and elsewhere. He is the father of two children, a boy and a girl.

"I am a teetotaler," he said. "I don't drink and never have. I don't allow any one on my team to drink.

I preach temperance."

The coach said he was not a fanatic but he thought it foolish for any one to drink or smoke. He said he tried to get his daughter not to smoke, but that she had told him it was hard for a girl to mingle in this day and age and not smoke. "She said it is expected of girls," he added. "The same thing is true of liquor."

"I feel the cause of temperance has not been helped by prohibition," he continued, "it is ridiculous to say there is any increase of drinking in colleges, but there is more vicious drinking."

"Do those conditions obtain at Princeton?" Roper was asked.

"Not any more than at any other college. I'll say that when boys drink at Princeton, they drink in a very improper way."

"But does it obtain at Princeton?"

"Not any more than at Yale, Harvard or Michigan or anywhere else. I was an enthusiastic prohibitionist for five years. I don't think it is fair for you to put words in my mouth and I don't intend to let you make it appear that Roper says conditions are bad at Princeton."

TANLAC ENDS ANOTHER CASE OF RHEUMATISM

and Stomach Troubles—Hotel
Man Benefits This Time

Ending the suffering of 10 years in just a few weeks is going some but that's just an example of how quickly Tanlac works in stubborn cases that never yield to other remedies.

No wonder so many local people are so enthusiastic about Tanlac—no wonder local druggists are loud in praise of this medicine. Read for instance what Mr. J. L. Kline says: "For 10 years have had stomach troubles. Rheumatism also of mornings, stiff and sore all over, mostly in back and shoulders. A good powerful medicine was needed to fix me up and Tanlac proved to be all of that. From it I got relief from all troubles, stomach and rheumatism. My digestion now is just about 100% good. No more pain or distress, eat good, sleep as good as I eat, pain, stiffness, soreness all gone. Rheumatism in back and shoulders wiped out. I have tried out lots of medicines but Tanlac gave me results." That's the story of Tanlac in a nutshell—it gives results and gives them quick, for every herb, bark and root is a real medicine. Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may fool you into buying them, but remember Tanlac is a real medicine that backs its claims with a guarantee. At all druggists. Accept no substitute.

RIVETS MAKE THE TANK-CAR OIL-TIGHT

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE

is gas-tight and dust-tight

because it is riveted

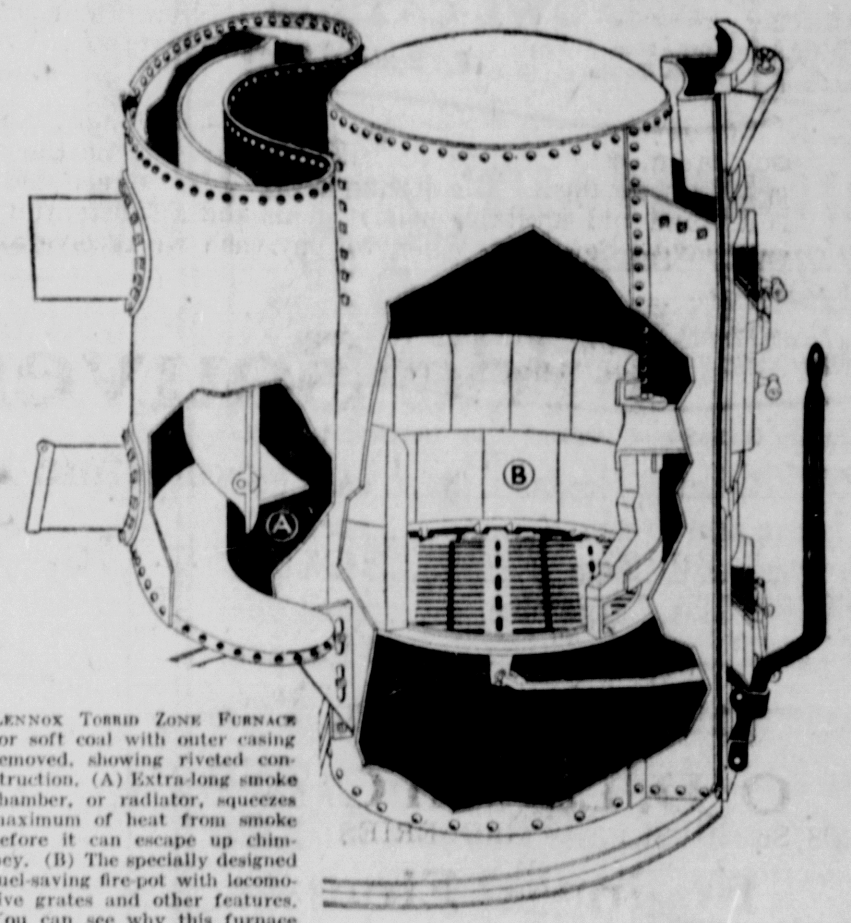

WARM air, the choice of all real authorities on healthful heating, reaches perfection through the Torrid Zone. The special construction of this longer-lasting furnace insures clean, warm air, at all times free from fumes—and brighter and happier homes.

For just as the tank-car is made leak-proof by hot-riveting and cold-calking...

so the steel Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

That means no gas-tainted air when the furnace is freshly fueled or banked for the night. No dust or smoke from the registers following a shake down. Even the cellar or furnace-room will be cleaner than you ever thought it could be, because of the unusually snug firing and ash doors. Every part of the Torrid Zone is as tight as a drum.

Two other essentials to health and comfort—humidity and ventilation—obtainable only with warm air systems, are a part of the Torrid Zone. The humidifier has twice the evaporating area inside the casing of ordinary water pans, and it is positioned for rapid evaporation. Air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs according to the Standard Code.

LENNOX TORRID ZONE FURNACE for soft coal with outer casing removed, showing riveted construction. (A) Extra-long smoke chamber, or radiator, squeezes maximum of heat from smoke before it can escape up chimney. (B) The specially designed fuel-saving fire-pot with locomotive grates and other features. You can see why this furnace is guaranteed for 10 years and why its average life, based on the service records of thousands of Torrid Zones, is 21 years.

The efficiency of a Torrid Zone magnifies your coal pile. Oversized heating surface causes Torrid Zone furnaces to produce from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel than other furnaces, hence they will heat with less fuel than other furnaces will consume. Models for soft coal, coke, hard coal, lignite, wood, gas or oil.

Come in and see why the Torrid Zone is the most desirable furnace that heating science has yet devised. Look at its sturdy locomotive grates and "lazy" shaker. Get the booklet that explains its features in detail. We will gladly furnish plans and estimates for either new or old homes or other buildings. Factory blueprints obtained for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.
